

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: January 21, 2025

This Privacy Policy describes how “Brad Almonte.com” collects, uses, shares, and safeguards your information when you visit or interact with this website. By accessing or using our website, you consent to the practices described in this policy.

Information We Collect

1. Personal Information

We may collect personal information you provide directly to us, including but not limited to:

- Your name
- Your email address
- Information provided through contact forms, surveys, or other interactions

2. Non-Personal Information

We also collect non-personal information automatically, such as:

- Your browser type and version
- Your device's IP address
- Pages you visit on our website and the time spent on them
- Referring websites or links

This data helps us improve our website and understand how users interact with our content.

How We Use Your Information

We use the collected information to:

1. Enhance your experience and improve the functionality of our website.
 2. Respond to your inquiries, requests, or feedback.
 3. Send updates, newsletters, or promotional materials (only with your explicit consent).
 4. Analyze site performance and usage trends.

Sharing Your Information

We value your privacy and do not sell or share your information with third parties, except in the following scenarios:

1. When necessary to provide services or features you've requested (e.g., third-party email services for newsletters).
2. To protect our rights, property, or safety, as well as the rights of others.

All third-party services are vetted to ensure compliance with privacy standards.

Security of Your Information

We employ industry-standard technical and organizational measures to protect your information from unauthorized access, loss, misuse, or alteration. This includes:

- Encryption of sensitive data during transmission
- Secure servers and restricted access protocols
- Regular monitoring and updates to safeguard against vulnerabilities

However, no method of transmission over the internet or electronic storage is entirely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

Your Rights and Choices

You have the following rights regarding your data:

1. Access and Correction: You may request access to the information we hold about you and request corrections if necessary.
2. Data Deletion: You may request that we delete your personal information, subject to any legal obligations we must comply with.
3. Opt-Out: You can opt out of receiving promotional emails by following the unsubscribe link provided in our emails or by contacting us directly.
4. Cookie Preferences: Adjust your browser settings to manage cookies or opt out of non-essential cookies on our site.

For inquiries or to exercise these rights, please contact me at bradalmonte300@gmail.com.

Children's Privacy

This website is not intended for individuals under the age of 13, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from children. If we (my team or I) become aware of any such data, we will take immediate steps to delete it.

Changes to This Policy

I may update this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect changes in my practices or applicable laws. Any updates will be posted on this page with the revised effective date.
